Aug news

The past couple of chilly winter months have brought about a few adjustments in the Margot Molyneux studio.

- o We saw the launch of a new look website, now hosting a blog now featuring background information on new collections, media features as well as general news in connection with the brand.
- o Starting from the beginning of August we are now proud to have a stall at the Old Biscuit Mill's Neighbour Goods Market every Saturday morning.
- o Spence online store has released new MM items which are now available for sale.
- o With summer fast approaching, this August we welcome Spring '11 with these new looks.
