ISUOG endorsed courses (Limited space. Registration essential.)

1. Basic Training Course is aligned with ISUOG's Basic Training curriculum and designed to provide attendees with the practical knowledge and skills required to perform obstetric and gynaecological scans. The course is aimed at practitioners who are new to ultrasound and want to learn a standardised basic approach to ultrasound.

2. Advanced Training Course

This course may include limited live demonstrations and hands-on workshop sessions. The course is aimed at practitioners who are already performing detailed ultrasound examinations in obstetrics and/or gynecology, and who want to consolidate their skills in this field to an ISUOG approved standard.
