

Vanessa Meyer (administration manager) joined the New World Foundation in 1986, just after she matriculated. She facilitated the computer training and was also the Receptionist at the time. Later she facilitated the Office Administration course, which developed into the Workplace and Life skills course. She has been NWF's administration manager for the past four years.

Vanessa: "I joined the NWF because I always wanted to work with people. I sometimes feel it's time for me to move on and change jobs, but then I realise I am actually still enthusiastic about NWF. This is the place where I want to be. Our tasks and responsibilities change every year, you have to be multi-skilled in this organisation, that is what keeps it exciting.

Vanessa is married and has two children, a daughter (23) and a son (16). She is a leader and a Sunday school teacher at the Methodist Church in Steenberg. In her free time she enjoys swimming and gardening.
