

SHRINK BIGGER

by croc E mores 2011

I'm a joybot

Constantly on the hunt

For some emergency happiness

I'm stuck in this global state of puss

Damned up damage...bubble of denial

3rd world debt in the throes of thrombosis

I am struggling to love humans when they need it most

A child once laughed and said to me

I find myself blind sided side swiped

Cornered by winds at break neck speed

It's a gale force guillotine cutting to the chase

It has my mind on the run

Only to find myself held up by an army of question marks

WHICH WAY TO WHAT

I'm a joybot...Can you see I am trapped in escapism

Caught in my own straightjacket skin

The invisible squeeze is upon us now

The great clarification is upon us now

Its turbulence turbulence turbulence

Reality is taking us for a ride

It's hard to believe your ship's coming in

When you feel you're sinking

Sometimes my only freedom is to surrender

DESTINATION LOVE ORIGIN

I'm not here to blame you or even entertain you

Lead you down the garden path

Of more smug desperate obliviousness

No, no, no the money party is over

We've inherited a nuclear hangover

I'm here to get clear about our schizophrenia our mutual mythomania

I'm here to remember mother nature

You cant beat her so join her counter culture

A Praying mantis shadow boxer trickster mantra

Yes it's an open source poetry sorcery

SHRINK BACK TO BIG SHRINK BIGGER

Somehow we got to wean glean clean

The boldest dare dream from our collective spleen

Get emergent insurgent detergent

Come on lets incite the in sight

Excavate our ancient instinct

Shrink back to big shrink bigger

Sometimes our only freedom is to surrender
